New Jersey Help America Vote Act (HAVA)

INTRODUCTION

The “Help America Vote Act of 2002” (HAVA) was enacted by Congress on October 29, 2002 and is intended to provide federal monies to assist in the upgrading of a state’s voting equipment and to provide for the implementation of procedures that would protect each citizen’s right to vote, while maintaining confidence in the integrity of a state’s election system. This federal law is unprecedented because it provides for federal funding. To date, New Jersey has received $84.9 Million.

HAVA, among many mandates, provides for three main initiatives: the replacement of all lever and punch card voting machines, the creation of a Statewide Voter Registration System, and the creation of a Voter Outreach and Education Initiative.

Due to the significance of these mandates and the sizable funding associated with them, the Attorney General determined it was necessary to create an office solely dedicated to HAVA, rather than initially placing these responsibilities in the Division of Elections. This Division is the electoral administrative arm for the Attorney General and already has a number of responsibilities. Accordingly, the Attorney General created the HAVA Unit and placed it under the Chief of Staff’s Office. It is anticipated that once all of the major initiatives of the mandate have been fulfilled, the Unit would be incorporated within the Division of Elections.

STATEWIDE VOTER REGISTRATION SYSTEM

New Jersey contracted with Covansys Corporation, to provide a Statewide Voting Registration System (SVRS) solution in March 2005. Covansys provided the State with an existing application known as ElectionNet which is already implemented in Connecticut, West Virginia and Rhode Island and which is currently in the process of being implemented in Maine, New Hampshire, Idaho and Nevada. The existing application came to New Jersey already meeting approximately 85% of our requirements - one of the valuable benefits of selecting an existing product that has gone through the development process in several states.

The ElectionNet system provides the ability to process election management, pre-election preparation, petition management, absentee ballots, and ongoing administration with minimal custom configurations. ElectionNet also provides a majority of the reporting capabilities through pre-designed reports and the ability to generate custom ad hoc reports.

The ElectionNet system is designed to ensure that each registered voter will be uniquely identified and tracked within the SVRS, enabling the Office of the Attorney General to ensure that duplicate records are removed. The system will also enable the county election officials to remove from the list only those voters who are not eligible to vote.

New Jersey's solution is fully internet-based and will enable immediate and real-time electronic access to the SVRS by authorized State and local election officials. ElectionNet is built on a robust security infrastructure that will provide role and user-based access and will provide secure and encrypted data communications within the application and between the municipalities, the central location, and the external agencies. Additionally, security is built into the database layer that provides table and record level security for the voter data, thus ensuring that citizen data is protected. The real-time, internet-based access to the SVRS will ensure the ability to provide verification and query capability with municipalities and other State agency data.

STATEWIDE VOTER REGISTRATION SYSTEM

ElectionNet is designed to be intuitive to navigate and easy to use with the objective of increasing the effectiveness of election officials using the system and to augment the voter registration process. The user interface is built around the context of accepted industry standards for user interaction with web-based applications. Functions and data are presented as pull-down menu items, pick lists, and radio buttons, while the user interface is organized to mirror the process of voter registration, incorporating workflow-driven rules. In order to facilitate the user's ability to efficiently navigate and work with the SVRS, context-sensitive help is provided to guide the user.

Thus far, we have completed several phases of the implementation plan. Specifically, we have completed the joint application development process which leads to the development of a final specification document which is being used as the basis for assuring that the application will meet 100% of the State of New Jersey's requirements. We have completed the installation of all State and end user hardware (including the installation of servers, PCs, printers, scanners, bar code readers, etc.), completed all county communication and network infrastructure upgrades. Further, we are in the final stages of data conversion from all legacy systems and have started the training and change management program. The application, which is now undergoing a reprogramming effort to include NJ specific requirements, has gone through the initial phases of User Acceptance Testing and all issues identified are being addressed by the programming team.

STATEWIDE VOTER REGISTRATION SYSTEM

By October, 2005 we completed the vast majority of the required application modifications that were necessary to meet New Jersey's specific needs and have now deployed the application for pilot implementation in 3 counties. It is anticipated that we will be in substantial compliance in all counties by the federally mandated January 1, 2006 deadline.

Following is a link/web address to the NJ SVRS Project Website wherein extensive detailed information about the design of the system, the project plan, various communication pieces, and the project schedule can be found. Information on this website is updated weekly and provides up-to-date status information on our project time line. This material provides great insight into the SVRS project and serves as an invaluable informational resource.

VOTING SYSTEMS

After reviewing the voting machine inventory in the State, the Office of the Attorney General determined that almost all of the equipment in use in the State would need to be either replaced or upgraded.

A funding scheme was initiated which reimbursed each affected county 75% of the cost of voting machine replacement and 100% of the cost of audio kit and firmware adaptations as well as all software needed to operate the machines.

It was determined that Atlantic, Essex, Camden, Cape May, Cumberland, Monmouth, Passaic, and Warren Counties would need to purchase new HAVA compliant Voting Machines, as their machines were either antiquated lever machines or were simply not able to be retrofitted to meet the HAVA requirements.

It was also determined that Bergen, Burlington, Hunterdon, Gloucester, Middlesex, Morris, Ocean, Somerset, and Union Counties, which already had Sequoia AVC Advantage machines, would either need their machines to be retrofitted with new firmware or in some counties new firmware and an audio kit upgrade to make the machines HAVA compliant.

At that time, Salem and Sussex Counties' machines were already HAVA compliant and Hudson and Mercer Counties had just purchased HAVA compliant voting machines.

VOTER EDUCATION & OUTREACH

One of the main goals of HAVA is to ensure the participation of as many qualified voters as possible. It is critical for the state to upgrade registration systems and implement a statewide voter registration system, but nothing in the democratic process is more important than encouraging eligible voters to go to the polls. The New Jersey “Be Powerful, Be Heard” Voter Outreach and Education Initiative was created not only to inform New Jersey citizens of the administrative changes related to HAVA, but also to emphasize the importance of registering and voting.

The New Jersey Voter Education and Outreach initiative aims to inform the public of elections laws and changes to those laws, register citizens to vote, and increase voter turnout. In 2004, New Jersey launched a number of voter education initiatives through publications, the Internet, television and radio public service announcements as well as special events throughout the State.
